DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments, see Appeal Brief, filed May 19, 2008, with respect to claims 1, 4-6 have been fully considered and are persuasive. The rejection of claims 1,4-6 has been withdrawn.

Upon a review of applicant arguments in the appeal brief, neither the patent Park et al (US 6,920,602) nor the patent to Kronestedt (US 6,308,082) teach or suggest the claimed invention.

Because the channel coding and/or interleaving scheme is independently applied by the base station and the mobile station, applicant analysis that the "applicant's system leaves the network with the freedom to consider factors, other than the mobile device's request, and take them into account in making such decisions. Park's mapping is fixed, so that if the transmitting device decides to use a certain QoS and consequently a certain frame length, the receiving device has no choice, other than to comply" is persuasive.

Applicant assertion that the the quality measurements used in the Kronestedt patent to determine a channel coding scheme do not read on "the Quality of Service parameters" is persuasive. Specifically, the QoS parameters such as bit error rate according to the claims and as defined in the specification are not measured quantities as described by Kronestedt but rather "desired" communication parameters.

Allowable Subject Matter

2. Claims 1-6 are allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: As explained above, the prior art including the patent Park et al (US 6,920,602) nor the patent to Kronstedt (US 6,308,082) teach or suggest communicating a request message containing a desired Quality of Service parameters based on an expected use of a specific communication connection so that the base station and the mobile station can independently apply a channel coding and/or interleaving scheme.

3. Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Kevin Y. Kim whose telephone number is 571-272-3039. The examiner can normally be reached on 8AM --5PM M-F.

If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, Shuwang Liu can be reached on 571-272-3036. The fax phone number for the organization where this application or proceeding is assigned is 571-273-8300.
